Art Gallery of Hamilton presents an Afternoon Tea and Talk
The Art of Collecting - The Inuit Collection of Bredt and Cameron

Learn more about one of the best private collections of Inuit art in Canada from the collectors themselves as the Art Gallery of Hamilton presents The Art of Collecting: The Inuit Collection of Bredt and Cameron on Sunday, April 11th at 2 pm at the AGH, 123 King Street West, downtown Hamilton.

Beginning with a single purchase in 1987, collectors Christopher Bredt and Jamie Cameron have spent years assembling a stunning collection of Inuit art that includes prints and sculpture from several regions of Canada. Their passion and knowledge are evident in any encounter with the works they have gathered. At this delicious afternoon of tea and discussion, the collectors talk about the importance of Inuit art and collecting in their lives.

Tickets are $12 for AGH Members, $14 for students and seniors and $16 for Non-Members. Tickets may be purchased online at www.artgalleryofhamilton.com, at the AGH Front Desk during Gallery hours or by calling 905-527-6610, ext. 241.

On view at the AGH until May 9th, the exhibition Arctic Passion: The Inuit Art Collection of Bredt and Cameron, features an array of works that reveal a side to Inuit art that many of us do not usually recognize: the rich variety of Inuit visual expression — extending to materials and subjects, as well as intentions, meanings and moods.
