Directed by Dylan Kidd (Roger Dodger), P.S. tells the story of Louise Harrington (Laura Linney), a divorced, thirty-something admissions officer at Columbia University's School of Fine Arts. Louise is intelligent, pretty, successful, and unfulfilled. That is, until a graduate school application crosses her desk and she arranges to interview the young painter. When F. Scott Feinstadt (Topher Grace) appears, he bears an uncanny resemblance to Louise's high school boyfriend and one true love, an artist who died in a car accident twenty years earlier. Based on Helen Schulman's novel of the same name, P.S. is the story of a woman given a second chance at first love. Also starring Gabriel Byrne, Marcia Gay Harden, and Paul Rudd.

The AGH Film Programme is organized in partnership with The Film Circuit, a charitable, cultural, and educational organization that is a division of the Toronto International Film Festival Group. The AGH Film Programme receives funding from Turkstra Lumber, media support from View Magazine and Wave 94.7 and is supported by the Ontario Arts Council and The Canada Council for the Arts.
