

In 2014, the Art Gallery of Hamilton will be 100 years old!

The Volunteer Committee's Art for the 100th Sub-committee has launched a four-year fund-raising campaign, which invites active and sustaining volunteers to participate in a program designed to provide funds to the Gallery for acquiring a piece of art as the Volunteer Committee's gift to commemorate the Centennial.

By providing funds for acquisition, Volunteer Committee members will be continuing a tradition begun in 1954 by the first Women's Volunteer Committee. Over the years, the Women's Volunteer Committee, and later the Volunteer Committee, have provided funding for the acquisition of important works now in the AGH Permanent Collection, some of which are pictured here. This is an opportunity for current active and sustaining volunteers to continue this decades-old tradition.

The goal is to reach at least a $5000 mark by December 2013. At that time monies contributed by volunteers will be matched dollar-for-dollar through the generosity of a member of the AGH Board of Directors. Those members who contribute to the fund will be involved in the final selection process of an art work, from a number proposed by the AGH Curators and the AGH Acquisitions Committee.

This is a four-year campaign, so there is still plenty of opportunity for all volunteers to become involved and to offer support. We are confident that in 2014, with your help, another work in the AGH permanent collection will proudly state on its label: --
